

Big Marsh Volunteer Work Day

Saturday, June 16, 2018

Trail Maintenance and Removing Invasive species

June is National Get Outdoors Month and kicks off the first Saturday in June with National Trails Day—a day dedicated to promoting awareness of the benefits that trails provide and to encourage people to discover their local trails.

In recognition of this designation, join Chicago Park District staff, Friends of Big Marsh and local volunteers for a stewardship work day working on and around the hiking and biking trails at Big Marsh. Everyone is welcome, no experience necessary.

Activities may include: using a wheel barrow to transport dirt or mulch; raking, digging or spreading soil; clipping or cutting brush; having a fun and productive day outside!

Dress for the weather, wear appropriate shoes, and bring a water bottle, insect repellent and sunblock (a hat is encouraged). Tools and gloves are provided.*

WHEN: Saturday, June 16, 10:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

WHERE: Meet in the Big Marsh parking lot at 9:45 for orientation and safety instruction. (11555 S. Stony Island Ave)

RSVP: Stephen Bell, Center Director, Big Marsh Park
